

Faculty :	Faculty of Law
Program :	LL.B. Program in Business Law (International Program)
Level :	Undergraduate

Semester 1 / 2024
Course Code	Course	Credits	Course level	Course Description or link to Course Description
LB100	Introduction to Law and Legal Systems	3	Undergraduate	This course explores the scope of legal study and its relationships with other social sciences. Examined topics include legal systems; definitions, backgrounds, and sources of law; legal methods; and the classification of laws. This foundation course also introduces the fundamental concepts of law including rights, duties, liabilities, scope of rights, abuse of rights, and the principle of good faith. General principles of law enshrined in the Civil and Commercial Code, Book I, which are fundamental to the Thai legal system, such as those concerning persons, juristic acts, and property are discussed as well.
LB115	Business for Lawyers in Sustainable Future	3	Undergraduate	This course is intended to introduce law students to basic business concepts and practices in the changing environment. It focuses on how business operation may affect and contribute to sustainable future. Students will learn from theories and practices about related concepts such as social responsibility, ESG (Environmental, Social and Corporate Governance) framework.
LB130	Criminal Law	3	Undergraduate	This course examines the general principles of criminal law under the Penal Code, Part I.
LB200	Law of Obligations	3	Undergraduate	This course examines the general principles of the law of obligations under the Civil and Commercial Code and contemporary problems in the law of obligation

LB201	Tort Law	3	Undergraduate	This course provides a study of the principles of civil and commercial law relating to torts, management of affairs without mandate, and undue enrichment under the Civil and Commercial Code. Other relevant topics encompassed in this course are product liability law, environmental protection law, and contemporary problems regarding the application of these laws.
LB202	Property Law	3	Undergraduate	This course explores the principles of law relating to property under the Civil and Commercial Code, Books I and IV.
LB204	Drafting Contracts and Legal Documents	3	Undergraduate	This course is intended to be a hands-on forum for learning and practising skills in drafting contracts and legal documents. In particular, it explores characteristics of legal English, legal phraseology and legalese as commonly used in the legal profession and introduces basics for drafting and reviewing contracts and other legal documents, including notices, correspondence, reports, legal opinions and wills. Students will mainly learn and acquire experience through scenarios specifically prepared and adapted from real situations in the legal practice.
LB250	Public International Law	3	Undergraduate	This course provides a study of the historical development of international law, theories in international law, sources of international law such as treaties and customary international law, general principles of international law, and acts with binding force in international law. It includes a study of the relationship between international law and municipal law, participants in international law including the state, classification of states, the rights and obligations of the state, principles concerning jurisdiction, international organizations and other forms of juridical persons in international law, and the status of individuals under international law. In addition, this course also gives an account of the consequences of the recognition of a state and the recognition of a government, the succession of rights of the state, responsibilities of the state, and diplomatic and consular relations. It also covers international law applicable to various areas, for example, international seas, rivers, canals and air space, legal relations in international economics, international law with respect to human rights, international law in connection with the environment, and the settlement of international disputes, wars and armed conflicts in international relations.

LB294	Introduction to Chinese Law	3	Undergraduate	This course is aimed at providing the overview of the Chinese legal system, including some basic legal principles, juristic methods, some judiciary bodies, legal profession and legal education.
LB303	Family Law	3	Undergraduate	This course provides a study of the concepts and principles of family and family-member relationships. It covers the legal principles enshrined in the Civil and Commercial Code, Book V, and other relevant laws.
LB309	Basic Land Law and Land Use Controls	3	Undergraduate	This theory-based course explores how government acquires, regulates, and influences land and the use of real estate, especially in the contexts of urban areas. The principal topics covered include the legal principle of land law, expropriation, urban planning, and building controls. In addition, some policy perspectives and specific issues related to land use controls will be discussed, such as private land use controls, affordable housing, and land taxation.
LB310	Secured Transactions	3	Undergraduate	This course provides a study of the principles of law related to suretyship, mortgage, and pledge under the Civil and Commercial Code, Book III and special legislation.
LB313	Business Crime	3	Undergraduate	White collar crime is a global phenomenon and can bring adverse consequences far worse than those harms caused by street crimes. Not only are companies and participants in business affected by white collar crime but states and individuals are set back both directly and indirectly by this branch of offences. This course covers how and why companies commit such offences and how they can be criminally liable. Students will explore how states, including but not limited to Thailand, prevent, detect, and suppress this kind of activities conducted by companies.
LB338	Competition Law	3	Undergraduate	This course gives an account of economic theory for analysis of competition law, concepts, principles and exceptions in competition law, the means used to regulate or supervise activities which will affect free and fair competition, the state's role in law enforcement and problems pertaining to international trade and international investments.

LB346	Customs Law and Global Trade	3	Undergraduate	This course explores the nature and purposes of customs law, the evolution and backgrounds of customs law, liability for customs duties, customs formalities, liability and penalties under customs law, principles related to customs tariffs, interpretation of customs tariffs, powers and duties of customs officials, customs cases, exemption and returns of customs duties, the relationship between customs law and promotion of investment, industrial estates and other laws as well as customs-related international agreements.
LB349	Banking and Finance Law	3	Undergraduate	This course explores the meaning and significance of financial markets, the establishment of financial institutions, the practices of financial services providers, the laws and regulations applicable to the organization of financial institutions, and the roles of financial institutions in relation to services at domestic and international levels to maintain the financial and economic stability of the country.
LB383	Insolvency Law	3	Undergraduate	This course provides a study of the basic concepts and fundamental principles of law on the management of debt enforcement of natural and juristic persons. The course studies the liquidation of juristic persons, debt restructuring, business reorganization, both within and outside the formal dispute settlement forums, as well as international insolvency procedures.
LB386	Telecommunication Law and Regulation	3	Undergraduate	This course explores the nature of telecommunication business as well as its context and discusses legal and regulatory issues in telecommunication industry. The topics may include licensing, competition, consumer protection and the roles of National Broadcasting and Telecommunication Commission (NBTC) in regulating the industry.
LB393	Private International Law	3	Undergraduate	This course gives an account of the general principles of private international law, conflict of laws and private cases with international elements.

LB395	International Environmental Law	3	Undergraduate	This course explores international cooperation and principles of international environmental law concerning transborder water and air pollution, sea pollution, transborder waste and hazardous substance transportation, change of global atmosphere caused by the greenhouse effects and diminution of Ozone. The protection of biological diversity, nearly extinct plant divisions and animal species, and relevant international organizations' roles are also discussed.
LB397	Law of the Sea	3	Undergraduate	This course explores certain topics of the law of the sea, for example, sources of the law of the sea, the legal status of waters falling within jurisdiction of a state, e.g. internal waters, territorial seas and contiguous zones, exclusive economic zones, continental shelves, archipelagic waters, straits, bays as well as the legal status of waters not falling within jurisdiction of the State e.g. high seas and deep sea-beds. Legal principles applicable to the delineation of the territorial area of the sea and the settlement of international disputes within the scope of the law of the sea are also discussed.
LB434	Alternative Dispute Resolution for Business	3	Undergraduate	This course provides a study of the characteristics and forms of business disputes, and the methods and legal principles related to alternative dispute resolution, for instance, negotiation, mediation, arbitration and mixed resolution. In addition, the study includes designation and determination of appropriate dispute resolution forums.
LB444	Comparative Business Law	3	Undergraduate	This course explores certain areas of corporate law from a comparative perspective. Certain issues concerning the conflict of laws in the field of corporate law may also be discussed.
LB445	International Tax Law	3	Undergraduate	This course provides an introduction to the international tax law with an emphasis on the problems around double taxation. The lectures will look at types of international transactions which are subject to taxation under the Thai Revenue Code, and the different forms of international cooperation on the avoidance of double taxation.
LB446	Tax Theories and Policies	3	Undergraduate	This course looks into definitions and characteristics of taxation within the scope of public law. It also explores legal and economic principles concerning financial and fiscal administration directed by the government, tax systems and structures, tax policies, and the relationship between taxation and socio-economic structures.

LB493	International Trade Law	3	Undergraduate	This course explores public international law concerning international trade relationships. It focuses upon international trade issues, the legal principles governing international trade, various trade disputes between countries, as well as the specific work and law of relevant international organizations, including the World Trade Organization (WTO).
LB494	International Investment Law	3	Undergraduate	This course examines bilateral and multilateral investment treaties. It also explores domestic law affecting foreign investment both in the positive and in the negative.
TU101	Thailand, ASEAN, and the World	3	Undergraduate	Study of significant phenomena around the world, in the ASEAN region and in Thailand in terms of their political, economic and sociocultural dimensions. This is done through approaches, theories and principles of social science research via discussion and raising examples of situations or people of interest. The purpose of this is to create a perspective of diversity, to understand the complexity of global interrelationships, to build a global mindset and to be able to challenge old paradigms and open up a new, broader worldview.

Semester 2 / 2024
Course Code	Course	Credits	Course level	Course Description or link to Course Description
LB101	Contract Law	3	Undergraduate	This course discusses juristic acts, the general principles of contracts, the legal capacity of persons, and the legal effects of voidable and void acts as stipulated in the Civil and Commercial Code. The course further focuses on the fundamental doctrines of contracts as they appear in unfair contract terms law, consumer protection law, electronic transactions law and other specific laws, as well as current issues in contract law.

LB141	Constitutional and Administrative Law	3	Undergraduate	This course examines the history, evolution, definition and types of constitutions. It explores the creation of states, and important theories of constitutional systems, such as the separation of powers and judicial review. Philosophical foundations of government systems, constitutional rights and freedoms, and political organs will also be discussed. In addition, it examines the history and general concepts of administration and administrative law. It also covers the sources of administrative law and the interpretation of administrative law. The administrative acts and administrative contracts will also be studied.
LB143	Fundamental Rights	3	Undergraduate	This course is a forum for the study of the meaning and significance of human rights and fundamental rights as recognized in the Constitution of the Kingdom of Thailand as well as the historical backgrounds, development, types of rights, and the protection of fundamental rights in various legal systems.
LB194	Legal History and Philosophy	3	Undergraduate	Studying legal philosophy will give students the opportunity to discuss long-standing questions about the nature of knowledge. The students will be encouraged to develop their own views and to assess other philosophers' takes on issues and topics related to law. Legal history will take the students on a journey of civil law and common law by exploring the development of their legal institutions and concepts.
LB203	Private Law Seminar	3	Undergraduate	This course encourages students to reflect on the fundamental and current issues concerning general principles of private law and legal reasoning in the context of private law.
LB210	Law on Commercial Contracts	3	Undergraduate	This course covers legal principles relating to contracts of sale, hire of property, hire-purchase, agency, loan of money, and hire of work under the Civil and Commercial Code.
LB211	Law on Business Organizations	3	Undergraduate	This course examines the law relating to business organizations, especially that dealing with partnerships, companies, joint ventures, and consortiums. It concentrates on their establishment, characteristics, management, the rights and duties of employees and representatives, winding-up and liquidation. State roles in controlling and supporting business transaction are also within the course's coverage.

LB214	International Commercial Arbitration	3	Undergraduate	This course gives an account of the overall concepts of international commercial arbitration, the nature of cases brought to arbitration, arbitration clauses, legal principles applicable to arbitration, the composition, competence and roles of arbitral tribunals and arbitral procedures. The scope of the course is extended to the role of the judiciary as related to arbitration, for example, the recognition and enforcement of awards and their annulment.
LB223	Intellectual Property Law	3	Undergraduate	This course explores the fundamental concepts, rationales and principles of intellectual property law. In particular, it studies the laws relating to copyright, trademark and patent protection.
LB231	Law on Business Organizations	3	Undergraduate	This course examines the law relating to business organizations, especially that dealing with partnerships, companies, joint ventures, and consortiums. It concentrates on their establishment, characteristics, management, the rights and duties of employees and representatives, winding-up and liquidation. State roles in controlling and supporting business transaction are also within the course's coverage.
LB234	International Criminal Law	3	Undergraduate	The course addresses the development, principles and legal framework of international criminal law. Participants are introduced to the main substantive and procedural rules and examine the challenges of their practical implementation. Based on an historical assessment of post-World War II developments such as the judgments of the Nuremberg and Tokyo trials, the course focuses on the jurisprudence of the International Criminal Tribunals for the former Yugoslavia (ICTY) and Rwanda (ICTR) as well as of the International Criminal Court (ICC). In term of legal principles, the main international crimes (genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes and aggression) under customary and statutory international law, including the respective elements of crimes, are discussed. Further issues include problems related to jurisdiction and the principle of complementarity, referral mechanisms, criminal liability, the irrelevance of official capacity, command responsibility, the role of the ICC prosecutor and practical matters of international judicial assistance and cooperation. The course examines also the historical and current significance of international criminal justice in Southeast Asian countries and the repression of international crimes in domestic jurisdictions.

LB260	Principles of Business Tax Law	3	Undergraduate	This course examines tax law issues relating to carrying on businesses. Its focus will be placed on personal income tax, corporate income tax, value-added tax, and other related taxes.
LB290	Procedural Law and Evidence	3	Undergraduate	The course addresses the general principles of both civil and criminal procedural law. It also provides basic rules concerning the law of evidence.
LB293	Introduction to American Law	3	Undergraduate	This course is aimed at providing an overview of the American legal system, including its court structure and procedure, basic substantive legal principles, juristic and legislative methods, and the operation of the legal profession and legal education.
LB298	Introduction to Japanese Law	3	Undergraduate	This course is aimed at providing the overview of the Japanese legal system, including some basic legal principles, juristic methods, some judiciary bodies, legal profession and legal education.
LB304	Law of Succession	3	Undergraduate	This course examines succession law principles under the Civil and Commercial Code, Book VI.
LB305	Labor Law	3	Undergraduate	This course provides a study of the principles of labor law, the historical development of labor law in Thailand, contracts of employment, the law of labor relations, the law of labor protection and other related laws.
LB306	Energy Law	3	Undergraduate	This course aims to deliver an introduction to basic principles and concepts, policies, laws, and relevant regulations used to regulate the energy industry, including energy from petroleum, natural gas, renewable sources, legal measures for promoting investment in the renewable energy industry, and dispute resolution in the energy sector.

LB315	Consumer Protection Law	3	Undergraduate	This course explores the fundamental concepts, rationales, and principles of consumer protection law. It examines the work of relevant consumer protection organizations, legal mechanisms used for consumer protection, consumer assistance, as well as remedies. It also covers special legal procedural rules when dealing with consumer protection cases.
LB328	Trusts Law	3	Undergraduate	This course provides an introduction to the law of trusts and discussion of the fundamental principles of trusts law. Topics covered include the history, development, and uses of trusts in different legal systems, as well as the foundational principles and doctrinal debates within the law. This course takes a comparative approach, examining trusts in traditional common law jurisdictions such as England, some civil law jurisdictions, and Thailand, which has adopted a limited use of trusts in investment by way of the Trusts for Transactions in Capital Markets Act BE 2550 (2007).
LB337	Law on Securities and Exchange	3	Undergraduate	This course examines the funding systems and fund raising schemes of companies through the issuance of securities. Included in the course are types of securities, issuance of securities, public offerings of securities, securities businesses, unfair practices related to securities trading and business domination, measures for promoting, regulating and supervising such practices, and theories related to the protection of investors. The scope of the study is also extended to securities exchanges, securities trading centers outside securities exchanges, futures trading centers, organizations pertinent to securities and other securities businesses, and the supervision of securities and securities exchanges as well as supervisory bodies.
LB354	Environmental Law for Business	3	Undergraduate	This course gives an account of legal concepts in relation to the conservation, management, exploitation and sustainable development of natural resources and the environment. It also aims to address methods deployed in controlling pollution in land, water and air, as well as environmental impact assessments and other environmental enhancement and promotion laws. Related legislation is also covered.

LB363	Law on Information Technology	3	Undergraduate	This course provides a study of the effects of information technology on society and law, the fundamental concepts and the evolution of law related to information technology, for example, electronic transaction law, liability arising from computer use and the intellectual property aspects of information technology.
LB403	Law on Real Estate Development	3	Undergraduate	This course examines principles of law under the Land Code, laws related to land use, for example, the law on land development, the law on strata titles, the law related to building control and construction, the law on land taxes, the law on city planning and related laws.
LB404	Comparative Private Law	3	Undergraduate	This course comparatively and historically explores fundamental principles of private law in selected civil and common law jurisdictions including Thai law.
LB406	Law on Investment	3	Undergraduate	This course aims to provide students with an overview of the theory and concept of domestic and foreign direct and portfolio investments. It also discusses investment policy and regulatory frameworks governing investment activities within the territory of Thailand, offshore investments made from Thailand, encouragement of investment and investment incentives, State administration of investment activities. This course discusses law concerning business organizations in Thailand, establishment and management of business organizations, financing in various processes, mergers and acquisitions, and basic legal documents and contracts used in different stages, such as shareholder agreement, share purchase agreement, business purchase agreement, loan agreement and legal due diligence. The course will also examine the role of municipal investment law and domestic dispute resolution and how it interacts with international investment treaty law and dispute resolutions.
LB408	Digital Taxation	3	Undergraduate	This course introduces various types of taxes and their challenges arising from the digital economy. The focus will be placed on emerging tax-related issues involved in electronic transactions, such as e-commerce, e-services, digital assets, cross-border transactions regarding intellectual properties, and digital platforms.

LB409	Wealth Management Law	3	Undergraduate	This course examines legal concepts and issues regarding wealth and estate management. Its focus includes will drafting, family business management, estate holding by trusts and holding companies, and tax planning, especially income, land, and gift and inheritance tax. The course also seeks to explore other related legal issues concerning wealth management.
LB435	International Commercial Arbitration	3	Undergraduate	This course gives an account of the overall concepts of international commercial arbitration, the nature of cases brought to arbitration, arbitration clauses, legal principles applicable to arbitration, the composition, competence and roles of arbitral tribunals and arbitral procedures. The scope of the course is extended to the role of the judiciary as related to arbitration, for example, the recognition and enforcement of awards and their annulment.
LB443	Maritime Law	3	Undergraduate	This course explores various maritime law principles, notably sea liners, mortgage on vessels, maritime preferential rights, liability and its limitation of ship owners, charter parties, carriage of goods by sea, liability for vessel collision, sea salvage, general average and marine insurance.
LB495	International Monetary and Financial Law	3	Undergraduate	This course provides a study of the legal principles of monetary and financial law and the role of important international institutions, for example, the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD).